

Being one of the leading beauty brands in Denmark, Tromborg wanted to create a brandbook that could work as both inspiration and as an Encyclopedia on their products. Giving both professionals and end-users a guide on how to use the different Tromborg products.

All products being developed by in-house scientist and being a balance between beauty and nature.

Routed in the Tromborg DNA "Science Behind Beauty" we created a brandbook with a mixture between editorial content and specific product information. All of Tromborg gathered in one book
